

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, EAST BAY

DEAN COLLEGE OF BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS

California State University, East Bay seeks a dynamic leader and accomplished administrator who will work with the faculty to provide an ethnically and culturally diverse student body with a comprehensive business and economics education that enables them to become thoughtful and creative members of the workforce and society.

The University: California State University, East Bay, one of the twenty-three California State Universities, occupies 342 acres in the Hayward hills, overlooking the San Francisco Bay. The university serves a diverse, multi-cultural population of over 13,000 students, with an international student population of over 1,000. The university also operates a second campus in nearby Contra Costa County with over 800 fully matriculated students.

The College: The College of Business and Economics (CBE) houses four academic departments—Accounting and Finance; Economics; Management; and Marketing, and offers a BS in Business Administration, BA in Economics, MBA, MS in Accountancy, MS in Business Analytics, and MS in Economics. All business programs are fully accredited by AACSB and the university is fully accredited by WASC. Undergraduate CBE programs serve approximately 2,550 majors and graduate programs serve about 500 majors. The College's One-Year MBA program is offered in Oakland and the MBA for Global Innovators Program is offered in San Ramon. There is a growing online BSBA degree program with over 350 students. The College will be hosting an AACSB reaccreditation visit in October 2017.

The Position: The Dean is the academic and administrative leader of the College and reports to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs. The Dean works closely with a management team comprised of an Associate Dean and the Council of CBE Chairs. The Dean also works closely with the faculty of the college and faculty governance. Primary responsibilities for the Dean include, in consultation with the faculty, building and maintaining the quality of business and economics programs, building and supporting faculty teaching and scholarship, managing AACSB accreditation, strengthening relationships with business community, and fundraising. Specific responsibilities include:

- Developing recognition for the college regionally, nationally, and globally;
- Building and maintaining quality academic and professional degree programs;
- Managing AACSB accreditation for the college;
- Building and supporting high quality faculty teaching, research, and creative and professional activities;
- Working with the faculty to implement sound educational planning and policies, including innovative curricular development;

- Building strong relationships with alumni, industry, government, and the community;
- Creating and nurturing partnerships with the business community; Developing fundraising strategies and soliciting outside financial support for the college;
- Being the primary advocate for the college both within and outside the university;
- Effectively managing personnel, programs, and financial resources;
- Overseeing all programs of the college, including negotiation of terms with CSUEB partners;
- Initiating and maintaining cooperative relationships with other universities, community colleges, community organizations, and state and local agencies.

Qualifications:

The ideal candidate will possess a terminal degree in one of the disciplines housed in the college or possess an MBA with significant experience commensurate with leading a college of business and economics. Further, the applicant will have demonstrated:

- An outstanding record of achievement in areas that support the college mission that includes one or more of the following: educational and scholarly accomplishments, experience in corporate or public enterprises, business community involvement, and fundraising; commensurate with appointment as a full professor in CBE at CSUEB;
- Substantial experience providing inspirational leadership and administrative vision in an academic environment that encourages innovation, entrepreneurship, scholarship and research;
- A strong record of building and proactively supporting faculty teaching, research and development;
- Experience in administering or working with programs that serve an ethnically and linguistically diverse population;
- Demonstrated experience and knowledge of ethical practices in a business environment;
- Ability to build and maintain strong and collegial relationships with faculty, students, staff and administration;
- Ability to provide strong leadership through collaborative and shared decision making;
- Ability to effectively manage resources in a competitive environment;
- Ability to master and effectively implement the policies of a large, complex public organization;
- Ability to work with industry and community leaders to build effective partnerships;
- Ability to effectively raise funds.

Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications.
